Regardless of depository materials' location, they remain the property of the U.S. Government Printing Office and must be handled as such.

In pursuance of this agreement, Washington University Library in St. Louis agrees to:

- Catalog the materials and inform MU of progress through regular updates.
- Insofar as possible, maximize access to documents through MOBIUS' patron-initiated loan.
- Handle the documents in compliance with regional responsibilities outlined in Title 44, United States Code, the FDLP Legal Requirements & Program Regulations guide, and the Missouri State Plan, including, for example:
 - Providing statewide reference services for regional materials.
 - Selecting 100% of designated agency publications distributed by GPO to FDLs.
 - Evaluating selective depository requests to dispose of designated publications.
 - Filling historic gaps in the collection.
 - Providing for preservation needs of the collection.
- Upon termination of the agreement, return the materials as directed by MU Libraries.

The University of Missouri (MU) Libraries agree to:

- Become a selective with regard to these agency collections and transfer to WU-STL corresponding regional responsibilities and privileges.
- Evaluate success of the arrangement, taking into account feedback gathered from other libraries.
- Keep records indicating the location of publications involved in this agreement.
- Accept all publications upon termination of this agreement.
