The National Library of Medicine recently awarded a contract, “Integrating Targeted MedlinePlus Health Prescriptions into Clinic Practice Workflow,” to develop and assess delivering patient education materials via a clinic-based information prescription. HSL’s Amanda McConnell is a member of the project team, along with Principal Investigator Dr. Robert Hodge in Internal Medicine, and Dr. Sue Boren in Health Management and Informatics. Congratulations!

If you are having computer or software problems that don’t require immediate attention, please complete the LTS Computing Trouble Form: http://mulibraries.missouri.edu/staff/lts/trouble.shtm

Also, please use this form for any changes to departmental server shares (the Q: drive) or web shares. It will help us track jobs more quickly.

If you need immediate attention, please call us at 884-6404.
Thank you, Michael Bland, head, LTS

MULSA Book Sale Work Day
Volunteers needed

MULSA will be holding another work day Saturday, Dec. 8th from 10:00 AM – 2:00 PM.
We need help sorting and packaging unsold books, recycling, marking new books for the sale, and generally organizing materials.

June DeWeese has been appointed to the book selection committee for Mizzou’s Summer Reading program. This is a program where a single book is chosen for incoming freshman students to read. The students then engage in a discussion about the book with each other facilitated by a faculty member. Last year’s program created tremendous excitement on campus and gave faculty and students a unique opportunity to connect in an academic experience outside of the classroom. June has been involved with this program since its inception 4 years ago. She has served as a facilitator of 5 discussion groups and worked with other MU Libraries staff members to host author receptions in 2005 and 2006.

MULSA’s Adopt-A-Family Project

This year MULSA is sponsoring two families as part of the Adopt-a-family project. See the MULSA page for the wish list: http://mulibraries.missouri.edu/staff/committees/mulsa/AdoptedFamilies/adoptedmain.htm
Our delivery date is December 11th, which means we need your donations here by the 5th so that we can do any extra shopping and wrap it all on the 7th.
Thanks, Ruthe

Big 12 Championship Football Notes

The Mizzou Alumni Association Student Board will host a watch party for the championship game at Mizzou Arena on Dec. 1st. Doors open at 6 p.m. at the north entrance of the arena, with kick off at 7 p.m.

Thanks to the help of some generous alums a full-page Mizzou ad (left) will run in today’s St. Louis Post-Dispatch and Springfield News-Leader.

Last weekend, with help from the Mizzou Alumni Association’s Kansas City chapter, Mizzou overshadowed KU fans by donating more than $8,000 in canned goods and cash, providing more than 41,000 meals for individuals in need during the holiday season. Those with Jayhawk pride assisted in donating more than 19,000 meals. The combined effort generated a total of $12,116, or 60,943 meals.

Hopes that the Tigers will trounce the Sooners are extending as far as Kabul, Afghanistan, where Sergeant Derek Moudy, a Marceline, Mo., native, and his fellow soldiers will cheer on Mizzou while watching the game. The Tiger Team Store recognized their dedication and donated T-shirts for the troops to wear while watching.

Follow Mizzou Wire to San Antonio for the Big 12 Championship football game. Live Wire Blog will cover the team, the fans, the trip and everything that goes along with this historic game.
